Tickets on sale now for October STARFest festival

ST. ALBERT — Tickets are now on sale for the STARFest Readers Festival, featuring prizewinning authors and bestselling, powerful books from writers across the country in eight intimate, in-person events between October 13 and 25.

“We’ve kept all event tickets at an affordable $7, and we’re excited to return to in-person events in Forsyth Hall at the Downtown Library. Our audiences have missed these opportunities to interact with the authors through Q & As and book signings,” says Festival Director Michelle Steinhusen.

STARFest is delighted to announce an exciting list of local personalities to host STARFest authors in the conversational style that our audiences enjoy. Tickets and all the details can be found at STARFest.ca.

Omar El Akkad | Thursday, Oct. 13 | 7:30 PM

Interviewer: award-winning author Omar Mouallem

In Omar El Akkad’s Giller Prize-winning What Strange Paradise, more bodies have washed up on the shores of a small island. Another over-filled, ill-equipped, dilapidated ship has sunk under the weight of its too many passengers. And only one has made the passage: nine-year-old Amir, a Syrian boy who has the good fortune to fall into the hands not of the officials but of Vanna: a teenage girl, native to the island. A beautifully written and profoundly moving novel.

J.M. Miro (aka Steven Price) | Friday, Oct. 14 | 7 PM

Interviewer: Thomas Trofimuk

Ordinary Monsters is a stunning new work of historical fantasy by acclaimed author Steven Price, writing here as J. M. Miro. In Victorian London, two children with mysterious powers are hunted by a figure of darkness—a man made of smoke. Riveting in its scope and exquisitely written, Ordinary Monsters presents a catastrophic vision of the Victorian world—and of the gifted, broken children who must save it.

Zarqa Nawaz | Sunday, Oct. 16 | 2 PM

Interviewer: Senator Paula Simons

Zarqa Nawaz is the creator of the hit CBC series Little Mosque on the Prairie, and we’re thrilled to have her at STARFest with Jameela Green Ruins Everything, a hilarious satire about a disillusioned American Muslim woman who becomes embroiled in a plot to infiltrate an international terrorist organization and, in the process, reconnects with her loved ones and her faith.

Genevieve Graham | Tuesday, Oct. 18 | 7 PM

Interviewer: Fran Kimmel

We're delighted to bring back crowd-pleaser Genevieve Graham with her new novel, Bluebird, a dazzling story set during the Great War and postwar Prohibition about a young nurse, a soldier, and a family secret that binds them together for generations. Weaving between the past and the present, Bluebird is a compelling, luminous novel about the strength of the human spirit and the power of love to call us home.

Donna Morrissey | Thursday, Oct. 20 | 7 PM

Interviewer: Rayanne Haines

Pluck is a deeply personal memoir, told with charm and humour, of love's restorative ability as it leads renowned novelist Donna Morrissey through mental illness, family death, and despair to becoming a writer. Morrissey layers her account of her life with stories of those who came before her, a breed rarely seen in the modern world. It centers around iron-willed women: mothers and daughters, wives, sisters, teachers and mentors. And it is a mysterious older woman she meets in Halifax who eventually unleashes the writer that Morrissey is destined to become.

Clayton Thomas-Müller | Friday, Oct. 21 | 7 PM

Interviewer: Teneya Gwin

Life in the City of Dirty Water is a gritty and inspiring memoir from renowned Cree environmental activist Clayton Thomas-Müller, who escaped the world of drugs and gang life to take up the warrior's fight against the assault on Indigenous peoples' lands—and eventually the warrior's spirituality. Tying together personal stories of survival that bring the realities of the First Nations of this land into sharp focus, and lessons learned as a frontline activist, Thomas-Müller offers a narrative and vision of healing and responsibility.

Heather O'Neill | Monday, Oct. 24 | 7 PM

Interviewer: Tony King

Heather O'Neill is the bestselling author of The Lonely Hearts Hotel, and we're excited for her return to STARFest with When We Lost Our Heads, a spellbinding story about two young women whose friendship is so intense it not only threatens to destroy them, it changes the course of history. When We Lost Our Heads is a page-turning novel that explores gender and power, sex and desire, class and status, and the terrifying strength of the human heart when it can't let someone go.

Ian Williams | Tuesday, Oct. 25 | 7 PM

Interviewer: Oumar Salifou

Poet, novelist and essayist Ian Williams is a Giller Prize-winning writer who brings fresh eyes and new insights to today's urgent conversation on race and racism. Disorientation is a series of startling, illuminating essays that grow out of his own experience as a Black man moving through the world. Examining the past and the present in order to speak to the future, he offers new thinking, honest feeling, and his astonishing, piercing gift of language.

STARFest is also delighted to offer a post-festival special event featuring wilderness adventurer Adam Shoalts in a free online event on Thursday, Nov. 3 at 7 PM. Shoalts' spellbinding The Whisper on the Night Wind: The True History of a Wilderness Legend details his attempt to unravel a century-old Labrador legend, combining folklore, history, and adventure in a fascinating saga into the dark corners of Canada's wild.

Register for the Adam Shoalts event at sapl.ca.
